CAREER EXPLORATION SUCCESS STORY

Ponderosa High School, Colorado

Students in Parker, Colorado got a sneak peek at Realityworks' new Child Care Experience™ program when Letha Houglund, their Family & Consumer Sciences (FCS) teacher, had an opportunity to pilot the program. The ninth- through twelfth-grade child development students were tasked with caring for multiple 3- and 9-month Babies during the simulation. No longer focused solely on basic infant care, Houglund's students now had to perform CPR on infants, save them from choking, and report every diaper change and feeding as well.

"As a program, Family & Consumer Sciences (FCS) is transitioning from being 'in the home' to being career-based... This new childcare simulation program just comes and does exactly that – like, exactly that – transitioning from teaching students to be parents to teaching them what they need to know in a career-based environment."

Letha Houglund - FCS Teacher, Ponderosa High School, CO

NEW - Child Care Experience™ (CCE) Program

The CCE Program is a complete solution involving software, occupational tools of the trade, and curriculum to provide a hands-on project for early childhood programs where students are challenged in class to manage the care of multiple infants simultaneously. Students clock in to “work their shift” in a simulated infant room and handle a “day in the life” of a childcare worker. The simulation even includes random workday events!

Infant Airway Obstruction Emergency Procedures

Infant Airway Obstruction Emergency Procedures Test

1. For each of the following objects, indicate whether it is safe or unsafe for an infant by writing the correct letter in the space next to each object.

Object	Safe or Unsafe
_____ marble	a. Safe
_____ rattle	b. Unsafe
_____ grape
_____ stuffed animal
_____ small Lego piece
_____ hot dog cut into slices
_____ play money and coins

2. Order the steps of helping a choking infant by placing the correct number next to each step.

	Step
_____	Give up to five "back slaps" with the heel of your free hand between the infant's shoulder blades. Each slap slightly harder to help the obstruction dislodge.
_____	Give up to five "chest thrusts" on the breastbone using two fingers of your free hand, placing your fingertips one finger width below the nipple line. Press straight down $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ the depth of the infant's chest. (1 second in length.) Allow the chest to come back to normal position.
_____	If alone, shout for help: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• If someone comes, have them call for emergency medical assistance.</li><li>• If no one comes, continue rescue skills for one minute, and then call for emergency medical assistance.</li></ul>
_____	Alternate giving five "back slaps" and five "chest thrusts" until the object comes out; the infant breathes, coughs, or cries; or until the infant stops responding. If the infant stops responding and becomes unconscious or limp, perform the steps of infant CPR.
_____	Hold the infant face down on your right forearm, supporting the infant's head and jaw with your hand. Keep airway open by not letting the infant's head drop forward. Sit or kneel and rest your arm on your thigh, holding the infant's shoulders below his/her hips. Straddle the infant's legs on your arm.
_____	If the object does not come out after 5 back slaps, turn the infant onto his/her back by holding the back of the infant's head with your free hand and flipping the infant to your free forearm, supporting the infant's head and neck with your hand.

3. Why should abdominal thrusts (the Heimlich maneuver) not be used on an infant? Circle the correct answer.

- a. It may cause harm to the infant's body
- b. It doesn't work
- c. The baby will cry
- d. It will cause the object to go further into the airway
